Since 1993, J. M. Waller Associates, Inc. (JMWA®) has embodied high-level, corporate-wide contracting expertise in government and civilian sectors at all departmental, major command and installation levels. Our firm has performed as prime contractor and subcontractor at more than 2200 locations worldwide.

We are thoroughly familiar with environmental issues and demonstrate exemplary environmental support in policy formulation, program management, project execution and technical support.

At the end of the day, which is more valuable to your project strategy: Convenience or Reliability?

Convenience and reliability are equally important to your project strategy. Why choose one over the other? We balance the effect of each for a comprehensive project strategy.

Throughout the process we maintain close communications with our clients and remain available for follow-up upon project completion. Our team of professionals assesses the job at hand, and then incorporates the staff support needed to get the job done correctly, on time and within budget, the first time.
